

CADD ART LAB DRAWING TO A CLOSE The one-year experiment comes to an end

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: August 31, 2009 –The Contemporary Art Dealers of Dallas regrettably announce the end of the collective gallery Art Lab effective with the closing of the current exhibition on September 3, 2009. CADD would like to thank the community for the tremendous support that we've received for our vision of a nonprofit gallery on Main Street in Downtown Dallas. In one year, Art Lab received almost 7,000 visitors, opened six exhibitions, and hosted numerous education programs.

CADD will continue to be a leader in the art community creating new programs focusing on other education endeavors including art tours, lectures, studio tours, and collector home tours. Since its inception in 2006, CADD has created innovative arts experiments in Dallas such as the CADD Art Fairs in 2007 & 2008, Art Lab 2008-2009, and the essential resource for contemporary art in Dallas, the CADD Art Guide, now in its third edition.

CADD continues to be dedicated to its mission: promoting contemporary art in Dallas. CADD will continue to bring ambitious new programs to the cultural community of Dallas. Stay tuned as we announce plans for our newest endeavors in the next few months.
